Supporting Communities in Times of Difficulty

Dear Parents,

I am acutely aware that the current COVID-19 crisis will be impacting some families much harder than others. Despite announcements from the government I am confident that there are families within our community experiencing hardship as a result of not being able to work.

2 websites have been brought to my attention which I would like to share with you which are helping families experiencing hardship by providing low cost food. There is access to low cost and free food for families who are struggling and opportunities for families in a position to help to share what they have.

If you are in need, or feel that you may be able to help others experiencing hardship, please consider looking at these websites and making use of them if you can.
